

Naomi Ash Voice Studios Price list from Sept 2025 to Aug 2026

NB: Our prices increase every September to reflect inflation as well as our teacher's continued CPD and increased experience.

A reminder that the Musician's Union (which none of us are a part of but do set the guidelines for private music tuition) recommends £44 per hour for private or small group music tuition. It is a constant balance to strike, for me, between what my staff deserve to be paid and what's a realistic price point for the people of Faversham and our loyal students. I have 16 years of teaching experience this year and with that has come a wealth of knowledge which I pass on to my teachers, who each have years of experience under their belts too.

We hope we provide an excellent service to you and your children that serves you and helps you achieve your goals.
